

Alan Lindsay greenkeeping agency and Eurogolfjobs.com are proud to announce a partnership with The Netherlands greenkeeping association.

The goal of this partnership is to help fund training for up and coming Dutch greenkeepers who want to develop their professional skills and training possibly in the other country.

Eurogolfjobs is a FREE website for all golf clubs and companies to advertise vacancies and recruit staff as well as for those working in the golf industry to search out available positions. On the site, there are also educational articles and news from the golf industry.

Alan Lindsay greenkeeping agency is there to provide qualified greenkeeping staff for golf courses all over Europe, but predominately in The Netherlands. For every greenkeeper supplied to a Dutch golf course, the agency will support the NGA by investing money so that the future of Dutch greenkeeping grows stronger. By taking the greenkeeper through our agency, you will support the NGA indirectly and contribute to this growth. The agency has the backing of the NGA as it knows we will provide good qualified greenkeepers who can help your existing greenkeeping teams. The agency is operated by an experienced greenkeeper who knows how to find the suitable staff to fit in with your team.

We hope the relationship between the agency and the NGA will grow stronger every year, since we see this partnership as a long term commitment.
